

Financial Transparency

Stewardship & Accountability

NACCAP is committed to financial integrity, transparency, and responsible stewardship of the resources entrusted to us and managing its financial resources responsibly and in support of its mission. We believe that clear financial practices and accountability are essential to maintaining the trust of our members, partners, donors, and the institutions we serve. Financial decisions are made with appropriate oversight and accountability, consistent with NACCAP's governing documents, policies, and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Financial Statements

NACCAP makes its financial statements available to promote transparency and accountability.

- Prior-Year Reviewed Financial Statements \(2025\)

IRS Form 990

NACCAP makes its most recently filed IRS Form 990 available for public review.

- 2025 Form 990

Additional Financial Information

Members may request additional financial information that is not available on this website. Requests may be submitted to the NACCAP office and will be considered in accordance with applicable laws and NACCAP policies.

Questions regarding NACCAP's financial information or financial transparency may be directed to the NACCAP office.